Dear Larry,

I do remember you. But I am not a lawyer and cannot give legal advice. If I did anything like that informally I'd get in trouble. But I'm not competent to and can't for that additional reason.

If you have not tried the available legal aid I suggest you do that.

Public defender, I guess is what I mean.

We have to have and keep a consistent policy on books or we are in trouble and make enemies. We keep a box for those that are damaged and those are the ones we give away, I'm pretty certain I recently saw a slightly damaged copy of my second book. This will be with that. But if I cannot get it today I won't mail it and this until Monday because all weekend mail goes to Baltimore and then comes back Monday mornings.

I'm sorry for where you are. Hope it all works out soon.

Best wishes,

Harold
